GONE TO KILLKARE

On Green River Near Rochester
—Madisonville People Will Attempt to Lure the Finny Tribe From Watery Haunts

BEE OFFERS REWARD FOR FISH

The following party left Madisonville Sunday morning for Camp Killkare on the Green river. Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Ruby, and son Edward, Dr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Dain, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Grayott, and Miss Florence Allyn. The party will go to Rockport on the I. C. and motor to Rochester where they have established a camp known by the suggestive name of "Killkare." They are equipped with the latest improved fishing tackle and artificial bait such as Buck tail spinners, "Shakespeare's" sure lure weedless, "and spinning coachmen." So much bombastic talk was indulged in by the ladies of the party especially Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Dulin as to the number and size of fish they would catch that the Semi-weekly Bee was induced to offer a substantial reward to any lady in the party catching and landing a fish unaided that would weigh over five pounds, the offer was immediately and enthusiastically accepted and a promise that each day's catch would be promptly reported.

WRECK OF MAINE.

Is Filled With Coral Instead of Mud as Was First Supposed.

Havana, Cuba, June 19.—Practically no progress was made today in the uncovering of the Maine, the pumps merely being used to keep the water a trifle below the ten foot level, which was reached yesterday. The work of removing the mud that covers the exposed portions of the wreck was begun. Streams of water at high pressure were employed, but a terrific rain storm soon compelled the suspension of this task. In many places the material covering the decks and filling the interior spaces to a depth of several feet, heretofore supposed to be harbor silt, proves to be a coral-like formation, defying removal by water pressure and necessitating much tedious work with picks.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala. "If it had not been Dr. King's New Discovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up, without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infalible for coughs and colds, its the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate lung trouble, hemorrhages, influenza, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

Had Big Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cavaness and daughters, Maggie and Winnie and son George. Dan Daubue and daughter who have been fishing near Smallhouse on Green river returned from a very successful trip they held the record for the large catch of the season while there they were visited by Ernest Rash and little daughter of this place.

EVANSVILLE PROTESTS

Against the E. & T. H. Charging Its Name or Many Its General Office From That City.

Organized protest at the threatened abandonment of the present name of the Evansville & Terre Haute railroad, in the merger with the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad to be acted upon at a meeting of the directors of the two roads in this city on June 20, will be voiced by Evansville-commercial bodies.

The things objected to are:
The loss of the word "Evansville" and the advertising advantage the city's name affords in the title.

The probable removal of everything from Evansville to indicate this city as a controlling terminal of the line.

The removal from the city of nearly 400 workmen including the shopmen who have already been removed.

The subtraction of an annual salary roll amounting easily to a quarter of a million dollars.

J. B. Duncan, of the Boston store, first suggested the danger publicly at the meeting of the Retail Merchants Tuesday night.

A meeting of a joint committee of the Retail Merchants, the Evansville Business Association and the Evansville Manufacturers' Association will be held Thursday afternoon.

The E. & T. H.'s transportation committee, with W. S. French as chairman, has the threatened merger under consideration.

City Controller Kollmyer has prepared letters to address to each one of the directors whose names are signed to the call for the Evansville meeting on July 20.

The controller's efforts, up to this time, have been directed simply to the retention of the name "Evansville" in some form or other, if not in the title, then as a name applied as a substitute, "The Evansville Route," or "The Evansville Gateway to the South."

His letter to the directors ask that some reparation be made for the loss of the city's name in the railroad's title, if the old name can not be retained.

"I am protesting mainly because of the commercial loss that this merger will mean to Evansville," said Mr. Duncan Wednesday. "I have information from what I consider a trustworthy source that there are upward of seventy-five clerks in the general offices here. Without question one of the sequels of the submerging of the Evansville & Terre Haute title will be the removal of everything from this city which distinguishes it from any other smaller city along the route.

"These seventy-five clerks, I am informed are drawing a matter of $84,000 a year salary.

The shops, formerly here, and recently removed to Danville, Ill., with the promise that they would be restored to Evansville as soon as traffic warranted the change, employed 260 men and paid approximately $16,000 a month in wages.

"Evansville is losing or stands to lose all of a quarter of a million dollars annually, an item worth while making a row about in our commercial affairs."

"Evansville is too important a point on the Frisco system to be thus sacrificed, I should say. The future of the city is such that railroads already having a permanent location and established here should want all the identification with it that they can get, instead of taking away everything that they have.

Competition Holds a Check
That competing lines offer a cure which may bring E. & T. H. directors to a realization of the importance attached by Evansville people

Madisonville Notes

Brilliant Reception for Guests.

It was with real pleasure that the ladies of Madisonville accepted the invitation to Mrs. W. J. Barnhill's reception for her guests Mrs. W. T. Carrington and Miss Nona Fay Carrington, of Durham, N. C. on Thursday evening, June fifteenth at her hospital cononial home on North Seminary street.

This affair stands unique as one of the social season's most pleasant memories. The large number who thronged the home from eight to ten attested to the popularity of the hostess as well as her widely known hospitality.

The daisy was the basis of the scheme of decorations and the effect was beautiful to every artistic eye.

The guests were ushered into the library where they were introduced to Mrs. Carrington and Miss Carrington. Mrs. Carrington's gown was a handsome black marquisette over lavender silk. Miss Carrington carrying white carnations was charming in an entrain gown of golden crepe de chine. The hostess wore an exquisite dress hand embroidered in daisies.

The ladies registered in a diary hand-painted guests book in the form of a daisy.

In the hall, Miss Lillian Rodards, assisted by Miss Alfie Thompson presided at the punch bowl. The stairway was heavily banked in green asparagus looped up with handfuls of daisies. The asparagus with the daisies trailed gracefully above the doors to the library and the drawing room. Cornucopias overflowing with daisies were suspended from the door posts. From the chandeliers drooped waving streamers of asparagus, entwined with the daisies.

The most striking feature of the entire decorations was the heavy rope-like portiere made of chains of asparagus twined with daisies leading into the dining room. There the guests were served a dainty ice course which maintained the color scheme of yellow and white in every detail. A basket banked with ferns and daisies tied with yellow ribbon was the centerpiece of a linen cloth magnificently embroidered in clusters of daisies. This was the hostess, own handiwork. The favors were dainty sachets which were distributed by little Misses Ruth and Grace Barnhill. The sachets were hand painted in daisies. These and the lovely guest book were the work of Miss Head, of Chicago, a cousin of the hostess.

In the library and drawing room Mrs. Barnhill was assisted by Mesdames Edward Arnold, J. F. Gordon, Alex Lunford, Hillary Spencer, Misses Emeline Browning, Cora Martin and Beatrice Ray; in the dining room by Mesdames Wesley McGaw, W. C. Hollinger, E. B. Barnhill, J. B. McGaw, Misses Nannie Barnhill and Dixie Lunford.

The music for the occasion was rendered by Anderson's orchestra of thirty.

At-Prisco, Bridge for Visitors

Mrs. Hillary Spencer very charmingly entertained on Friday evening at Bridge at the Lakeside in honor of Mrs. R. L. Zubrod, of Henderson, Miss Nona Fay Carrington, of Durham, N. C., and Miss Lida Spencer, of Henderson.

The tables were arranged on the attractive grove near the lake, and many interesting games of Bridge were played, after which the hostess beautifully served an elaborate two-course luncheon. The cakes and ices were decorated with bunches of crystallized cherries, and during the games delicious cherry frappe was served. The very artistic tally cards were hand painted clusters of cherries, thereby carrying out the cherry idea in every detail.

Those present were: Mrs. Carrington and Miss Carrington, of Durham, N. C.; Miss Bishop, of Morganfield; Mesdames Wm. Ross; Wm. Morton, Kirby Gordon, Alex Lunford, H. H. Holmesman, Claude Ross, Lounis Bailey, Willie. Barnhill, S. D. Langlev, Tom Barnett, R. L. Bone, H. V. Behne; Misses Lida Spencer, of Henderson, Lella Barnhill, Vida Barnett, and Mary Ruby Morton.

Entertains South End Bridge Club.
The members of the South End Bridge Club were beautifully entertained tained at a Porch party at the home of Mrs. C. W. Lindsey in the southern part of the city. Mrs. C. A. Morton scored the greatest number of points, and was given a beautiful pair of black silk embroidered hose. At the conclusion of the games this charming hostess served a delicious Luncheon to the following: Mesdames Fred Reinecke, R. S. Dulin, Jr., H. F. Head, C. A. Morton, L. E. Ruby, Clyde Ruby and Miss Florence Allyn.

Bridge for Visitors

Another most enjoyable social event of the week was the porch party given on Friday morning at the attractive home of Mrs. Alex Lunford on South Arch street in honor of Miss Nona Fay Carrington, and Messrs. Stearling and Cheatham Carrington, of Durham, N. C. Many exciting games of progressive "Bridge" were played, after which a delicious two-course luncheon was served by the charming hostess.

Mrs. C. W. Lacy of Hopkinsville, and sister, Miss Bessie Finley, of this city, visited friends in Paducah and Princeton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fawcett and daughters Misses Hazel, Lucy and Julia Fawcett, Misses Margaret and Louise McPherson, Misses Elizabeth and Katherine Givens and C. C. Givens Jr. of this city and Mrs. Stella Kemp, Miss Margaret Kemp, John Moore and Morton Victory, of Earlinton left Monday for the Kentucky Press Association in session at Cerulean Springs this week. Miss Aileen Davis, James Sory and Williams Ross will join the crowd Wednesday.

Fine Rain Saturday Night.

A fine rain fell over this part of the state Saturday night accompanied by heavy wind and considerable electrical display. This rain was badly needed and will be of untold value to the farmers and others.

Will Build More Houses.

The coal company at Nortonville will begin in a short time and erect fifty or more houses on their property. They expect to have them completed in time for occupancy by late Fall.

Sporting News

BY VINCE

Earlington Defeats Crofton

In one of the fastest and prettiest games of the season the local lads defeated Crofton to the final tune of 5 to 2.

The game was full of sensational plays from start to finish and won rounds of applause from a very enthusiastic bunch of fans.

Fay worked for Crofton and pitched great ball and deserves a lot of credit.

T. Peyton heaved the pill for the locals, letting the Crofton bunch down with only seven scattered bingles. This lad is fast making himself a reputation among amateurs and with proper support and a little encouragement will make it interesting for the best of them. He also accepted 18 chances without an error.

Bennie Wilson was the bright and stirring star making some very pretty catches and his hit in fourth inning clinched the game.

These boys will play the strong Henderson team at this place the 4th of July and are expecting a good crowd. Everybody come out and root for the home team.

Final score Earlington—runs 5, hits 9, errors 2. Crofton—runs 2,

Lot Sale a Success.

The lot sale held at Nortonville Saturday by the Nortonville Coal company was a great success over forty lots were sold and the prices ranged from $75 to $147.50. There were about 400 people present and the entire program for the day was carried out satisfactorily to all. The barbecue and barn dance was well attended and a large crowd witnessed the ball game in the afternoon.
